Data Center

CompuBrain Data Center

The importance of the data may it be a small note on some subject or company records and fact sheets, is critical in nature. You never know when you might need a particular data and wish that you could access such data at some important point in time if your data were deleted.

CompuBrainTM understands the critical nature of such data and always recommends its clients to secure the data on our reliable data servers that are housed at CompuBrainTM Development Centre Facility. Very soon a complete section dedicated to servers and data storage will be operational at CompuBrainTM Development Centre.

The Data Centre will house latest servers and storage facility that will provide our clients with enormous space for their website hosting and data backup. Latest technology and dedicated team of young, experience and knowledgeable engineers will be deployed to cater to all the needs of our clientele and for the smooth running of our Data Centre Facility.
